

SL: You Deserve Better.

PT: This Is Your Chance.

Yeah, [name] there are friends, spouses, and even family members we showed love only for them to disappoint.

Maybe you channeled 100% of your energy into that relationship... or into your job.

Instead of your boss or friend or spouse to appreciate...

They, on the contrary, gave attention to others who didn't give a damn about them.

This is a one-sided relationship...

and there's a way to free yourself from it.

You kept them to your heart like precious gems; no, they only saw you as a "friend" or "commoner"

For this reason, you start overthinking that they are not seeing your efforts or your love.

Your thoughts completely run out of place.

Meanwhile, these people you're stressing over move on with their lives—having fun with their new lovers...

Or their "new favorite" staff.

As a result, you're worried that you're overthinking which is harmful to your physical and mental health – overthinking about someone that doesn't give a hoot a minute about you.

Now!

Do you know that prolonged overthinking is linked with high blood pressure, bowel disorder, anxiety...

which can lead to mental derangement, brain fog, or even death?

So it's time to rise again.

It's time to take charge and show them that you're now flourishing (in their absence...)

Time to prove to them you're more than they can control and heal once again.

As your joy and happiness are not dependent upon others...

You deserve better!

The journal that brings this control to you is actually titled "law of attraction".

It was written by Latha Jay, a spiritual manifestation coach and ayurvedic practitioner who combines modern knowledge with traditional wisdom.

She assembles what she has learned...

Through life experience to teach her clients to shift perceptions, manifest, and live happier lives.

They pay huge sums for one-on-one therapy with her.

However, very passionate about reaching out to more people quickly...

She has boiled down the rules in her new book to literally talk to thousands of people at the same time.

This wonderful journal is packed with easy and practical ways to...

create wealth...

manifest love...

and flourish happily.

Inside, you discover

#1 Powerful guidance to shift your mindset...

release every external pressure others put you in...

and attune to your greatest desires...

which means you'll no longer worry about money, emotional dramas, and problems.

#2. How to transform your mindset from the subconscious level...

cultivate deep commitment...

and as a result, take full charge of your emotions...

Which means you'll regain the strength to forge ahead no matter the fate that confronts you.

#3. There are a lot more you get.

For instance...

She has attached blank numbered pages to make the execution of the mindset transformation pleasurable.

Therefore, you start experiencing your mindset shift and transformation as well as...

making your mind laser-focus on what really matters right at your first reading.

SL: How much do you trust your partner's fidelity?

PT: Is your marriage bond as strong as this?

Hello [name]

Here's a story that can influence your marriage.

A 27-year-old woman just married at the time.

She and her new husband began with lots of lovely experiences and a high s.ex drive.

A few years later, interrupted by undiagnosed celiac disease, the lady's s.ex drive dropped.

She became like an old lady in body and mind.

Their marriage life went from good s.ex to her husband helping her walk to the bathroom and having no s.ex.

Well...to cut the long story short...

Their marriage and s.ex life moved back to normal after she became free from celiac (years later).

Yeah, how her s.ex drive dropped is clear (She had celiac disease)

But very baffling is how she was able to make her man live happily in a marriage with little to no s.ex for years.

Read that again: For years!

You may say maybe her husband was just a good man.

But is it easy for one to find such a good man?

And keep him "good" for years without s.ex?

No! Hardly, very hardly can one find such a man that remains good without s.ex.

Hence, there must be something unique this lady was doing that retained this man's "goodness".

I'm not saying marriage should be without s.ex...

But you want to build a strong foundation for your marriage...

that you'll no longer need to worry about an outsider snatching your spouse from you.

So how was this lady able to keep her home and her husband for years in spite of low s.ex?

Actually, she did something tiny that had a huge impact on her marriage!

Want to discover it?

No worries, you'll see it.

Okay!

In "12 Tiny Things" by Ellie Roscher and myself...

you discover tiny things this lady did to make your marriage flourish in happiness and love...

Regardless of any circumstances.

Endorsed by L. M. Browning (a TEDx Speaker) and author of To Lose Madness....

This book reveals how doing just little things can greatly influence...

and build your work, life, marriage, relationship, and even your community at large.

It covers 12 essential parts of your life.

This is a practical book for living each day well.

To apply it in your life, work and family... You don't need to read this book from cover to cover.

Actually, do nothing more than just 1-2 pages skimming daily. And you're fine!

Inside, you'll uncover:

#1. Tiny actions to revive a once-happy marriage that's getting ruined or dull...

maybe due to s.ex issues, or flaws from your partner, who doesn't give you adequate attention.

#2. How to stay calm, soaring beyond isolation, life stress, and mob attacks around you...

and as a result, feel happy and fulfilled.

#3. Upon discovering the mystery of doing tiny things, you'll now begin to live a life of intention and purpose...

regaining yourself to feel great the way you are and gradually attracting family and friends who rejected you.

As a matter of fact, it shows you more than all these.

It is a handy tool for a quick reminder when you're stuck in the feedback loop from hell.
